

I writing this as my last report as president of London and District peri-Operative Nurses Association. I am pleased to announce our new excutive effective July 1, 2009.

Sue Taylor as president
Shelley Balderston as treasurer
Rose Schiller as secretary
Jan Fitchett as membership
Chris Zanutto as web master
Sandi Walsh as past president

At this point we do not have a President Elect but will try to accomplish that at our May dinner meeting

This past year has had some ups and downs, on a positive note we have had four successful meetings:

- 1) September --a golf tournament
- 2) November--Anita Abullah, R.N., a medical law clerk, who gave some very interesting “food for thought”, reminding us to keep our charting up to date, cross our t’s and dot our i’s.
- 3) February---Jill Ross-RN, spoke to us about what happens after surgery with Breast cancer
- 4) May, Dr. John Dendst will be talking to us about Common Duct Calculi and the treatment with laser.

On a sadder note, we had to cancel our March conference as we didn’t have the delegates to make it go

Our membership is now 75. Our 2009/2010 membership drive is gearing up with posters, and email being sent out. We are keeping our fees at $40.00.

More exciting news is the launch of our new website.....thanks to Chris and all her hard work <http://ldorna.webnode.com>

We do have approximately 14 Nurses going to the National Conference in June, and we do have some things planned within the city to celebrate Nurses week.

I would like to welcome our entire new executive and wish them luck with L&DORNA.and thank everyone for making my years as president enjoyable.

Sandi Walsh—RN—president L&DORNA
